

May 23rd, 2008

We are busy around here as the end of the school year is coming soon! In Language Arts, we wrote persuasive essays this week. We were trying to convince our classmates to think or act in a certain way...“Basketball is the best sport”, “Everyone should try beading”, and “Colorado is the best vacation spot” to name a few! Next week, we will read a few fairytales and will be working on our Europe research projects. Each child will choose a country in Europe to research. The research will be done in class and your child will be expected to make a “European Country Float” on his or her research. They will be due on Tuesday, June 3rd...more information to come next week. In Math, we are going to finish up our books with unit 10 on measurement. Also, please keep studying those facts! We will have another mixed fact quiz on Wednesday. In Science, we will finish learning about water and we will test on Friday. Your child may study his or her packet of notes and experiments to prepare for the test.

Don't Forget

- Art Institute Field Trip: Please make sure your permission slips and $2.00 are in by Tuesday. We will be eating lunch before we leave for the Field Trips, so no need to pack a cold lunch!

Next Week

Monday	NO SCHOOL
Tuesday	Return Friday Folder Art & Spanish Pick Europe Country to Research
Wednesday	Mixed Fact Quiz Mass Art Institute Field Trip
Thursday	Computers & Music
Friday	Water Test PE, Music & Spanish Vote for New Student Council!

Enjoy the LONG weekend!
