We had an awesome Bravo lesson with Mrs. Ehlis on Friday!
Ask your child what he/she learned about Beethoven!

WHAT'S COMING UP

Math: Your child will bring home a review guide for unit 5 along with the SRB this weekend to start studying for the test on Wednesday, January 20th. The test will cover Big Numbers, Estimation and Computation (Estimating Sums and Multiplication).

Language Arts:

Next week we will focus on a Writers Workshop. The students will be generating their own fairy tale type story using some of the guidelines given in class. There will be a spelling test but no skills test next Friday, January 22nd.

Science and Social Studies: Your child will be finishing up the Midwest Region and The Human Body units with Ms. Strantz on Friday. He/She will then move on to Mr. Schmidt for The Western region and Life Science on Monday, January 25th. The whole class did a great job of taking responsibility with having a new teacher!

Religion: We continued working on the Ten Commandments this week. They will be our main focus for the next month or two. Students will be required to memorize the Commandments in order and know one way a 4th grader can follow each.

Yearbook: The yearbook committee needs your pictures for the yearbook. If you have any pictures please e-mail them to us. We need pictures for the following topics: class parties, class events, OLG marathon, service, worship, and Catholic School's week. We prefer digital pictures, but will accept hard copies as well. Also, please let us know about the picture (class, event, etc) in the e-mail. The deadline for submitting pictures is Friday, February 5th. If you have any questions, please let us know. Thanks.
