Week in Review...

Language Arts:

Our new alpha friend this week is "Jumping Jill"

We focused on Story Structure... Beginning, Middle and End. After reading Splash and Run Away the children journaled in their Beautiful book about what happened at the beginning, middle and end of each story.

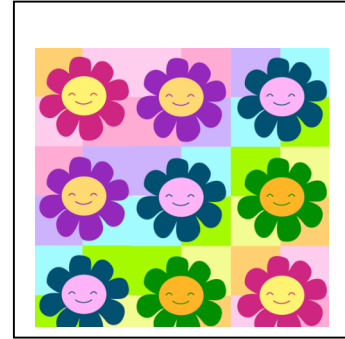

Math: We continued with subtraction this week. We made it more challenging by rolling the dice and adding them together to make one number in our number sentence and then rolling the dice again to make the second number.

Religion: "We celebrate Jesus' Gift of Himself"

We learned that the Last Supper was a special meal that Jesus shared with his friends. We also learned that the bread and wine at Mass becomes the Body and Blood of Jesus.

Theme: "I Bloomed in Kindergarten"

This week we started a Kinder Lit book that goes along with Leo the Late Bloomer. We will continue to work on it through the end of the year.
